Lovelane is a therapeutic horseback riding program in Lincoln, Mass. that has a dramatic impact on the physical and cognitive development of children with special needs through its holistic approach and unique, supportive environment.

Over 130 volunteers are needed each week to assist with therapy sessions as well as the maintenance and operation of the riding facilities. Also, volunteers and parents of riders help organize and run several fund raising events each year to benefit Lovelane.

Lovelane always needs qualified (16 years old and older) volunteers in the riding arena, in the barn, and in the office.
